COUNCIL BUYS DUMP TRUCK; WORKERS ASK PAY INCREASE

Borough council at its July meeting in the fire engine house Monday night awarded the contract for a new dump truck to Glenn L. Bream, Buford avenue, for $2,946.50, delivery to be made within 30 days. The truck will be a GMC.

Bids were received from Mr. Bream and three other bidders: Roosevelt garage, York, for a Diamond T truck; McCauslin Auto Sales and Adams County Motors Dodge and Ford dealers respectively. Previous bids submitted a month ago were rejected and readvertised.

Council referred to the highway committee for study, to report at the August meeting, a petition signed by borough highway department employees for an increase in pay from $5 cents to $1 an hour.

Vote $350 To Band

George Olinger appeared before council on behalf of the Blue and Gray band to request a contribution, and was granted $350. Council adopted an ordinance providing for a supplemental police pension with the New England Mutual Life Insurance company, to provide greater coverage for borough police officers. Premiums will be paid out of funds received from the state.

The property committee was authorized to purchase new flag poles for the flags used on the ornamental light poles, at approximately $12 a dozen. A complaint that dirt from Fifth street washes over the sidewalk on the property of Roy Hankey was referred to the highway committee.

Council approved a new street lighting ordinance which places all street lighting under one contract.

Adopt "Economy" Measure

Council decided to get along with the present machine used for applying the white traffic lines on borough streets, although Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh said a new machine was needed to apply a new and better type of paint now being used by the borough. It would have cost $530. The present machine does not apply the new type paint thick enough or fast enough, Hummelbaugh said. Council decided against its purchase as an "economy" measure.

Council directed that final notices be sent to property owners who have been notified to repair, rebuild and build sidewalks or curbs, and have failed thus far to comply.

Attorney Daniel E. Teeter appeared before council on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rinehart and Joseph D. Kendeheart, former councilman, who have been directed to build sidewalks on Howard street. Mr. Teeter said a four-foot sidewalk.

COUNCIL ASKS FOR REPORTS ON "SKEETERS"

Been bitten by any mosquitoes lately, or annoyed by their buzzing? If so, the borough council would like to have you report the fact so that the spray guns of the exterminators may be turned on the breeding places and the pests killed.

Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh, who has been in charge of the mosquito elimination campaigns in recent years, told the council members Monday night that the rainy weather recently has brought out mosquitoes where there were none before. In fact, according to other councilmen, the town has been remarkably free of the pests this year—up to now.

Find Breeding Places

"We received a few reports that there were mosquitoes around," Mr. Hummelbaugh said, "and we combed the town thoroughly. We found spots we didn't know existed, where mosquitoes were breeding in stagnant water left by recent rains."

Citing instances, Mr. Hummelbaugh said "wrigglers" were found in a rain barrel, in a chicken yard, and in a pile of old automobile tires. He asked that local residents inspect their own premises, and get rid of such breeding places if they are found.

The mosquito discussion developed some good stories about snakes and skunks and "junks." Among the places visited by the mosquito exterminators was a vacant lot on East Lincoln avenue, formerly a miniature golf course, now grown high with weeds, Mr. Hummelbaugh said. The stones and concrete of the erstwhile golf course are now piled in a corner of the lot.

Snakes and Skunks

The exterminators did not find mosquitoes, but they did find snakes, and evidences that the "jungle" is also the home of obnoxious "woods pussies." This led to the story, told by Councilman Samuel Weiser, of the copperhead snake he and a retired mail carrier killed on East Broadway several months ago.

The retired Reading railroad also regaled council with the story of the "blow viper" he discovered between the railroad ties at Hunter's Run when he stepped up to throw a switch.

After listening to the snake and skunk stories, council decided that the owner of the former miniature golf lot should be asked about removing the stone and concrete which forms the "caves" in which these undesirable reside.

LARGE CROWD FOR FAIRFIELD CELEBRATION

On Wednesday afternoon there will be a ball game between Fairfield and Emmitsburg and beginning at 4:30 the women will serve chicken dinners. The Gettysburg high school band will present a concert in the evening.

On Friday evening at 7 o'clock there will be a children's parade and as an added attraction a special act will be provided by the "Nevins" of Hanover. There will be dancing each evening. On Saturday evening ham dinners will be served, beginning at 4:30 o'clock.

The committee today asked anyone wishing to donate fancywork for the festival to bring the articles to the grounds.

Bernard L. Crouse Is Interred Today

Funeral services for Bernard L. Crouse, 16, Littlestown R. 1, who was killed by accidental electric shock on Saturday afternoon at his home, were conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, Littlestown.

Crouse was killed instantly when a crane that was moving a sliding board from the lawn at the Crouse home to the swimming pool touched a power line. Young Crouse was walking beside the sliding board and had a hand resting on it.

ROTARY HEARS OF INDONESIA FROM MRS. IDLE

Intricately wrought craft work of the Indonesians was shown Monday evening by Mrs. Dunning Idle at the regular meeting of the local Rotary club at the YWCA.

Describing the people of Sumatra, Borneo, Bali and the other 3,000 islands making up the Indonesian archipelago as "friendly and courteous," she gave details of how the native workers construct the designs in the cloth from which they make their clothing, showed silverwork of delicate design and displayed a carved set of figures representing a native band.

She described their dances and noted that the majority of the people in the area are Mohammedans. In one section the people have mostly been Christianized and in Bali the Hindu religion is still strong. In Bali, she noted, the government has segregated Christians and refuses to allow missionaries, claiming that the people cannot be Christians and remain Balinese.

To Hear Policemen

Eighty million people live on the islands, she said, of which about 50,000,000 are on Java. Despite the large population for an island no bigger than California, the land is so fertile that experts estimate Java could contain twice that population, she noted.

The Indonesians comprise two classes, the professional people, and the servants and day laborers while the middle class in the islands, the shopkeepers, are mostly Chinese and Indians. One of the hopes of the area is to develop a native middle class, she added.

Fifty attended the meeting at which Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, new president, presided. Doctor Wolff re-

Sam Cobean, Cartoonist And Town Native, Killed In Crash

Samuel E. "Sam" Cobean, 34, Gettysburg native who became nationally known as a cartoonist, died Monday evening at 6 o'clock in an automobile crash four miles north of his home at Watkins Glen, N. Y.

The English sports car he was driving collided with another machine on the West Seneca Lake highway and a companion, Cameron Argetsinger, 30, former chairman of the Grand Prix Road Race, was injured. The driver of the other car, John D. Giglione, 46, Watkins Glen, was not hurt.

Police said the accident occurred when Mr. Cobean, driving north, hit the other car as it made a left turn into a farmhouse driveway. Argetsinger was taken to a nearby hospital where his condition was said to be not serious.

Was Dentist's Son

A son of the late Dr. George C. Cobean, former Gettysburg dentist, and Catherine Eichinger Cobean, Mr. Cobean was born here. His father engaged in the practice of dentistry here with offices in the Epley garage building and the present home of Dr. C. G. Crist, which Dr. Cobean built. Later the Cobebans built the present Edgar L. Dearborn home on Carlisle street and resided there until they moved to Juniata, Pa., about 1920. Both Dr. and Mrs. Cobean died there and are buried in Evergreen cemetery.

On "New Yorker" Staff

Sam Cobean visited briefly with friends here last March while enroute to and from Florida from Westport, Conn., where he, his wife and their adopted son spent the winter. Their home had been at Watkins Glen for the last five years.

Mr. Cobean was well known for his drawings in "The New Yorker" magazine and in other publications which he always signed only with his last name. He had been a member of "The New Yorker" staff since World War II.

He studied law at the University of Oklahoma, where he became editor of the college magazine. He became interested in writing and drawing and abandoned the study of law for them.

In 1937, he joined the staff of the Disney Studios, where he worked on feature length animated cartoons, including "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." He later worked on cartoon shorts for the Universal and Columbia studios.

Was Signal Corps Artist

In World War II, he was in the Signal Corps and was assigned to write and draw cartoons for training manuals. He did one on Japanese treachery that was widely distributed in the Pacific.

In that period, he sold his first cartoon to "The New Yorker" and later appeared in "The Saturday Evening Post," "Mademoiselle," "McCall's" magazine, "Harper's Ba-

TOWN COUNCIL REJECTS PLAN ON PARKING BAN

The borough council at its July meeting Monday night at the engine house turned thumbs down on a request from the Retail Merchants association that parking in Lincoln Square be banned during the proposed Gettysburg Sales days in August so that a display of new and antique automobiles could occupy the space around the square customarily used for parking automobiles of shoppers and tourists.

The letter to the council, signed by Charles B. Bender, president of the Retail Merchants association, made five requests:

Five Requests

1. That a parking meter be removed on the southwest quadrant of the square in front of the new public information booth to provide a space where tourists, seeking information, could park.
2. That parking be banned in the square for the sales days.
3. That the streets be decorated with flags and streamers for the sales days.
4. That four policemen be assigned to duty in Lincoln Square for the sales days.
5. That the town be "cleaned up" for these days.

Council's Attitude

Council members generally took a negative view of the parking and police proposals. "No place for an automobile show," was the consensus of opinion. They said little or nothing about the cleanup, but directed that flags be placed on the light standards around the square and a streamer placed where the four streets enter the square.

Burgess William G. Weaver received receipt of a protest against "no parking" in the square from the Hotel Gettysburg company.

The council said it would be willing to allow the merchants to use one quadrant of the square for the display of antique automobiles, and left this question and the question of police to the burgess, and the safety committee. Council members saw no need for four policemen.

Wright Was Wrong; He's In Jail Now

It was bad enough when Ernest Wright, 30, of Biglerville R. 1, an itinerant cherry picker, took the pickup truck of his employer, L. H. Hays, Sunday afternoon without permission, but when he wrecked it near Mt. Holly Springs, that was worse.

At least that was the view authorities said Hays took of the matter. Damage to the truck was estimated at $400, and Hays had Wright arrested. Constable Charles Smith picked him up this morning and he signed a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, was held for court, and committed to jail in default of $1,000 bail. He is charged with taking the truck without the owner's consent.

Littlestown MOST STORES TO CLOSE ON 4TH

Marvin F. Breighner, president of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, has announced that the majority of the merchants in the community will be closed on the Fourth of July. A number of factories in the town have given their employees a week's vacation also, during the week of the Fourth.

The Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, and president of the Littlestown Ministerium, was in charge of the bi-monthly meeting of that group, held on Monday morning at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The president conducted the opening devotions, after which the Rev. Charles B. Rebert, treasurer of the Ministerium and registrar for the annual daily vacation Bible school, presented the financial and statistical reports of the school. It was revealed that the daily offering at the school covered the expenses incurred in its operation.

It was announced that in case of rain on Sunday evening, the outdoor union vesper service will be held at Redeemer's church. In case of rain on any of the other Sunday evenings that the outdoor services are scheduled, they will be held at Centenary Methodist church. Closing devotions were in charge of the Rev. Kenneth D. James. The next meeting of the Ministerium will be held on Monday, September 10.

Postpone Meeting
The July meeting of the Alpha Fire company No. 1 will not be held this evening, which is the regular meeting night, due to Fourth of July week. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 10, at 8 o'clock, at the engine house.

Postmaster, Clarence L. Schwartz has announced that there will be no mail deliveries on Wednesday, due to the holiday. There will also be no window service, but the mails will be received and dispatched as usual. Perishables and specials will be taken to their destination.

The Littlestown State bank, the Littlestown National bank and the State Liquor store will all be closed on Wednesday, also.

"Religion and the Nation" was the topic of the Independence Day sermon delivered by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, at the second in a series of Sunday evening outdoor union vesper services, Sunday, in the pavilion of Crouse park. The text was taken from the book of Leviticus "Let freedom ring throughout the land," which is also the inscription on the Liberty Bell. Fifteen chapters of this book were read by the Rev. Charles B. Rebert as a scripture lesson. The Rev. Frank E. Reynolds offered prayers. A vocal solo, "Lord Let Me Live," was sung by Robert Yingling, a member of the choir of St. Paul's church, and the organist from the same church, Mrs. Karl Bankert, was accompanist, and also played for the congregational singing. The Rev. Charles B. Rebert, retired Reformed minister, pronounced the benediction. The service next Sunday evening will have the Rev. Mr. Reynolds delivering the sermon, and special music will be furnished by the choir or individuals from the Redeemer's church choir.

Burgess Herbert J. Motter has issued a reminder to the members of the community that there is a law against the use of firecrackers and other explosives and a warning that the law will be enforced fully in the borough. A special patrol will be on duty during the holiday and anyone caught using firecrackers or other explosives with the borough will be prosecuted and will be liable to a fine of from $25 to $50. It is known that, during the last week, adults have been using firecrackers for practical jokes. Mr. Motter stated that "in addition to breaking the law themselves, the grownups are setting a very bad example for the children."

The newly appointed program committee, of which Dr. William H. Marshman is chairman, will be in charge of the program for the first meeting of the 1951-1952 Rotary club year, to be held this evening at 6:15 o'clock at Schott's. The newly installed officers will assume their duties at this meeting and the committees for the club year will be announced.

The matinee performance will be presented at 2:30 p.m. and the evening show will go on at 8:15 p.m.

Richwine also announced that a special added attraction during both performances of the thrill show will be an airplane crash into a building erected in the infield by Tommy Walker, flying ace of World War II. He also said a free mammoth display of fireworks will be presented in the park following the evening performance of the Chitwood show.

Gettysburg Featured In Post Short Story

Gettysburg is featured in a short story entitled "Masquerade" appearing in the current edition of The Saturday Evening Post which went on the newsstands today.

The story, by Jacob Hay, relates the trials and difficulties of a public relations expert in his attempts to promote stories about Gettysburg by providing a "ghost raid" in the borough by "Confederate troops."

A humorous writer, the author provides some unusual names for local establishments and organizations and adds a few statues to the borough for good measure. While the Post story appears this week another story on Gettysburg—this one factual—is in the process of being published. Philip Van Dorn Stern, writer for Holiday magazine, also published by Curtis company, was here about two weeks ago gathering background material for the article on the town and battlefield. Bradley Smith, photographer for the magazine, was here Monday to obtain illustrations for the article. At the present time the article and pictures are scheduled for publication in about one year.

WATCH OUT FOR KIDS!

YANKEES TAKE FULL GAME LEAD OVER WHITE SOX

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

All Murry Dickson needs to become the first pitcher in 48 years to win 20 games for a last-place National league club is 10 more victories and the cooperation of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The last-place Buccaneers, of course, must remain in the cellar.

The 33-year-old righthander notched his tenth triumph last night to lead a large list of individual achievements in an unusually active Monday of baseball.

Last Night's Highlights

Here are some of last night's highlights as every club but Detroit and the St. Louis Browns saw action.

1. Allie Reynolds' scoreless streak was snapped at 32 1/3 innings and he walked his first batter in 37 2/3 innings. But he gave the New York Yankees a full game lead in the American league race by stopping the Philadelphia Athletics, 15-5. It was Reynolds' sixth straight victory.

2. Cleveland catcher Jim Hegan scored all three runs as the Indians nipped the Chicago White Sox, 3-2, with the aid of Lou Brissie's perfect relief hurling for 2 1/3 innings.

25th For Hodges

3. Rookie southpaw Leo Kiely, in his first big league start, pitched the third-place Boston Red Sox to a 5-2 victory over Washington as Vern Stephens hit his third big league homer in spacious Griffith Stadium. The win cut Chicago's second-place margin to 2 1/2 games.

4. Gil Hodges clouted his 25th homer for Brooklyn to help Preacher Roe beat Boston's Braves, 6-1, for the southpaw's 11th victory against only one defeat. The homer put Hodges a game ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 pace when the Bambino hit his record 60 homers.

5. Jim Hearn of the Giants whipped his Philadelphia "cousins" for the 10th time in 11 decisions but he needed relief help from George Spencer as well as Bobby Thomson's 11th homer in the sixth inning with a man on base. It was the second straight day Thomson won a game with a homer.

Musial Boosts Mark

6. Pete Castiglione batted in three Pittsburgh runs with a single, double and triple, and scored twice to lead the Pirates to their 7-2 win over the Chicago Cubs.

7. Stan Musial raised his league-leading batting mark to .370 with two singles and drove in two St. Louis runs as the Cardinals downed the Cincinnati Reds, 8-2.

A home run by Ransom Jackson with one on in the seventh deprived Dickson of a shutout but the little curveballer rang up his 10th win. Since Pittsburgh still has 87 games left of its schedule, Dickson stands a fair chance of gaining 20 wins.

BURKEMO-SNEAD TITLE BATTLE

Oakmont, Pa., July 3 (AP)—If anyone ever had a chance to write a fabulous finish to a Cinderella story in golf, 32-year-old Walter Burkemo is the guy.

The strong-hearted blond from Franklin, Mich., today goes against the great Sam Snead, the par-busting West Virginian, in the 36-hole finals for the 33rd professional golf championship.

And the startling angle is that the former army sergeant, winner of two Purple Hearts as the result of World War II wounds, believes he has a good chance to win the title over Oakmont's 6,882 yards of heavily-trapped and treacherous terrain.

The experts point to the fact that Snead, two-time winner and twice runner-up in the professional fixture, is 18 under par for 136 holes of match play over this rain-soaked course, while Burkemo has been forced into extra holes by three of five opponents and is 10 over the card for 147 holes.

In yesterday's semi-finals, in which the losers picked up a $750 pay check, Snead was six under par in whipping Charley Bassler of Catonsville, Md., 9 and 8, one of the most impressive showings in the history of the classic.

Burkemo, two down with two to go against former tennis champion Ellsworth Vines, rallied to win the last two with a birdie and a par, and then copped the finals berth with a birdie on the first extra hole.

SEVEN DODGERS SELECTED FOR ALL STAR GAME

New York, July 3 (AP)—A seven-man gang from Brooklyn dominates the National league squad for the 18th All-Star baseball game July 10 at Detroit.

Not bound by purely American league rule limiting selection of pitchers to one from each club, Manager Eddie Sawyer named Preacher Roe and Don Newcombe of Brooklyn and Sal Maglie and Larry Jansen of New York to his eight-man staff.

Sawyer, manager of the pennant-winning Phillies in 1950 and thus boss of the Nationals, picked 17 men today. The eight starters already were voted into the lineup by the fans.

Among the missing was Jim Konstanty, Sawyer's relief ace of '50 and most valuable player in the league last season. No Pittsburgh or St. Louis pitcher made the club.

Back of the "big four" from the leading Dodgers and runnerup Giants, Sawyer's staff includes his own Robin Roberts, Warren Spahn of Boston, Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati and Dutch Leonard of Chicago.

Leonard's choice surprised because the most surprising because it was his first in the National. The 41-year-old knuckle-ball artist twice was on the American league side when he pitched for Washington and was the winning pitcher in 1943.

But his relief work for the Cubs this season has been top flight, impressing Sawyer among many others. The fans made sure the Dodgers had a solid delegation by voting starting jobs to first baseman Gil Hodges, the home run sensation of the year; second baseman Jackie Robinson and catcher Roy Campanella.

Apparently Sawyer shares the fans' respect for the Dodgers. He added Roe and Newcombe as well as shortstop Pee Wee Reese, named for the seventh time, and centerfielder Duke Snider.

The Phils already had rightfielder Del Ennis and centerfielder Richie Ashburn on the club by fan acclaim. Sawyer picked third baseman Willie Jones and Roberts.

Because infield experiments probably cost Ralph Kiner and Wally Westlake starting jobs in the fan vote, Sawyer named both to the outfield. Both are back in the garden again after their infield trials at Pittsburgh. Kiner is still with the Pirates, of course, but Westlake is at St. Louis.

Musial in left field was the only Cardinal picked by the fans. Sawyer added second baseman Red Schoendienst, the home run hero of last year's exciting 14-inning National win at Comiskey park, Enos Slaughter and Westlake.

Bypasses Second Choices Sawyer bypassed the fans' second-place votes in several instances. Perhaps the most surprising was his pick of Bruce Edwards, ex-Dodger now with the Chicago Cubs, as second string catcher. Walker Cooper of Boston, who poled more than one million votes, was not named.

The only Braves are Spahn and Bob Elliott, the third base starter.

Another eye-opener was Sawyer's choice of Cincinnati's Johnny Wroblek to the outfield squad. Dick Sisler of the Phils, who was second in the voting, didn't make it. Frank Baumholtz of Chicago, who alternated with Ennis day after day in the fan vote, was not picked.

Shortstop Al Dark and the Maglie-Jansen pitching pair make up the Giant delegation. No Eddie Stanky was listed.

Curt Simmons, the Phils' southpaw whiz, will pitch batting practice. He will be on leave from the army.

IDAVILLE DEFEATED The Shippensburg Legion scored three runs in the top half of the seventh inning to defeat Idaville 7-6 Monday evening at Idaville.

Flam And Savitt To Meet In Semi-Finals

Wimbledon, England, July 3 (AP)—

There's nothing like a world tour to improve your tennis game says Dick Savitt, the new hero of Wimbledon.

"I've been home only one week in the past year," Dick observed while resting before going into the semi-final round of the All-England championships tomorrow. "And believe me, I've learned plenty in my tour of the world, especially in Australia."

The 24-year-old Cornell graduate will meet Herbie Flam in one semi-final, a totally unexpected match. Savitt eliminated American champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., 6-1, 6-4, 6-4, and Flam polished off Australian star Frank Sedgman, 2-6, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5, yesterday in the quarter finals.

The other semi-final will send South Africa's Eric Sturgess against Ken McGregor, an Aussie Davis Cup mate of Sedgman's. Sturgess whipped Armando Vieira of Brazil, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3, while McGregor had a fight on his hands before prevailing over Lennart Bergelin of Sweden, 6-0, 4-6, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

SPORTS Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Pittsburgh, July 3 (AP)—Bobby Feller was the hero when he pitched his third no-hit game for Cleveland Sunday, but did anybody notice that Jim Hegan caught his third no-hitter at the same time? ... There may be a connection. ... Hegan, noted as one of the best men behind the plate in all baseball, was the receiver when Don Black earned no-hit fame in 1947 and when Bob Lemon tossed his no-hitter in 1948.

Now he has added Feller to the list. ... Maybe it's an accident because Manager Al Lopez, who caught more games than anyone else, never was on the receiving end of a hitless game. ... Or maybe it isn't. Lemon, Hegan's buddy since they played in Wilkes-Barre and his roommate now, pointed to Jim when he was being congratulated on the job and said: "There's the guy that did it."

MITT THE MAN When the Indians stopped here for an exhibition last week, drummer Marsh Samuel did a little raving about Hegan. ... Marsh was elated by the fact that fans finally were recognizing Jim's artistry behind the plate and making him a close second to belting Yogi Berra in the all-star poll. ... "The guy is terrific," said Marsh. "You can't keep him out of there. He's suffering from a sacroiliac condition and is all strapped up, but he wants to play. ... This year Lopez is using Birdie Tebbetts to spell him in second games of double headers and that may account for his improved batting average. He's about .260 now where his best average before was .248". ... One thing the fans may have overlooked is that Jim, despite that average, has ranked 1-2-3 among American league catchers in homers, runs batted in and runs scored for several seasons. ... His percentage of extra-base hits for times at bat is one of the best.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES Tom Hamilton, the U. of Pittsburgh athletic director, took time out from the NCAA television debate this week to take Tom, Jr., to Annapolis to start his navy career. ... Ralph Kiner, the Pirates' home run slugger, spent an afternoon off watching Sammy Snead hit a golf ball yesterday. ... Sam, after winning his semi-final, said he was going to the ball game last night. "I want to see Kiner hit one," Sam explained.

Yesterday's Stars (By The Associated Press) Batting—Bobby Thomson, Giants—Homered with one on to give the Giants a 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phils. It was the second straight day Thomson won a game with a homer.

Pitching—Leo Kiely, Red Sox—Pitched eight straight shutouts in the first inning of his first big league game as the Red Sox topped Washington, 5-2.

Interstate League (By The Associated Press) The Wilmington Blue Rocks last night moved back into a third-place tie with Lancaster's Red Roses in the Interstate league by defeating Harrisburg 5 to 3. The two teams are five games behind the top Hagerstown Braves and trail the Allentown Cardinals by three. The Wilmington-Harrisburg tilt was the only one scheduled last night.

Three errors proved the Senators' undoing, each costing a run. Harrisburg had its pitching woes as well. Righthander Jim Freeman, chiefly because of his wildness, was seldom out of hot water. He spared himself a heavier drubbing, however, by tightening up when the going was toughest.

Lions Meet at Cashtown Hall:
L. L. Taylor, succeeding Dr. Charles F. Sanders, was elevated from treasurer to president of the Lions club at the weekly luncheon meeting held at the Community hall, Cashtown, Monday evening. Other officers elected were:

Wallace V. Peters, C. Arthur Griest and C. H. Heldt, vice presidents; C. William Troxell, treasurer; Fred Haehnel, secretary; A. E. Hutchison, Lion Tamer; D. J. Forney, Tail Twister, and J. Donald Swope and Dr. C. G. Crist, trustees.

Dr. C. Jerome Jackson, new dean of men at Gettysburg College, was introduced as a new Lion.

Fireworks to Be Displayed on the Memorial Field: Gettysburg's community display of fireworks will be held on Memorial Field at Gettysburg College, it was announced by the committee arranging for the local celebration of Independence Day next Monday afternoon and evening.

More than $500 has been spent to secure the display of fireworks, which will include sky rockets and sky bombs, which upon bursting will reveal different colored balls of light, set pieces, such as an American flag, Niagara Falls, and various prominent personages, pin wheels and flares.

The fireworks will be set off after concerts at central places in town by the Knights of Pythias Band of Hanover, and the First Regiment Band, of Westminster, Maryland.

Keziah Kuff Dead: Older by many years than any person in Gettysburg and possibly one of the oldest women in the world, Mrs. Keziah Elizabeth Kuff, colored, whose age was 122 years, according to family Bible records, died at her home on West High street at 7 o'clock Thursday evening.

The aged woman was an ardent lover of tobacco, and was seldom without a chew of tobacco in her mouth. She frequently used a pipe and she often said that she attributed her long life to the constant use of tobacco.

Her residence, a log cabin, now abandoned, on West High street, is said to have been one of the first structures in this vicinity, and when erected, was in the midst of a dense wooded section of country.

Events of the Battle of Gettysburg were clearly related by the aged woman.

Nuptial Mass at St. Ignatius: Two prominent young folks of Buchanan Valley were united in marriage at a high nuptial mass, which was solemnized in the St. Ignatius Jesuit mission, Tuesday morning, when Miss Josephine Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Brady, became the bride of Lawrence Ignatius Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Hall. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Whalen, pastor of St. Ignatius.

The attendants were Miss Anna Hall and John J. Gelbach.

The choir was assisted by Mrs. James D. Noel, formerly of the Palestrina Choir, who sang most beautifully the ballad, "O Promise Me."

The wedding dinner was served on the lawn.

Factories Close Until July 12: The Gettysburg and Reaser furniture companies and the Gettysburg Panel company shut down Friday evening until Monday morning, July 12, when the workmen will go back on a 10-hour a day schedule, after working several weeks only 9 hours a day.

Sells Home: Mrs. Laura V. Eicholtz has sold her home on Steinwehr avenue to Clinton P. Weaver, of Gettysburg, who will take possession on October 1. Transfer was made by C. A. Williams.

Delaware Bridge Is Opened: (By Associated Press) Philadelphia, July 1.—The great Delaware river suspension bridge, longest of its type in the world, linking Camden and Philadelphia, was formally opened to traffic today.

Two sets of ceremonies were held

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE GIVER

I recently read in my newspaper of the meeting of two men who had adjoining beds in a Staten Island hospital. One was a British seaman and an ex-boxer; the other was a man who had been blind for five years. The boxer had damaged his eye in an accident but the cornea remained sound, so he offered it to his bedside comrade, who soon saw anew with his pal's eye!

When out of the hospital these two merchant marines went "sight seeing" together. I can imagine the gratitude of the one who received, and the joy of the one who gave. We have so much more after we have given away to someone else from the abundance of what we have.

I often think of a very rich New York man whose wealth was wiped out a few years ago by the so-called depression, but all his life this man had taken an interest in others, and so established a useful training school that gave instruction to thousands. After he had sold his great home estate and settled in moderate circumstances, he remarked that he felt richer than ever, for he kept thinking of the usefulness of the institute he had founded in better days and which continued to train men for their place in the world.

That Rodin bronze "The Thinker" that is so familiar to thousands though they may never have seen the original has always fascinated me. There is one in San Francisco's fine park, another at the entrance to the beautiful Cleveland, Ohio, Library. I often think of this great work of art in connection with an etching of a Mother and Child that I have by Mary Cassatt, wonderful mother and child artist. The Thinker and the Mother—just bear in mind what each sent out to the world—what wonderful givers—each of them!

The giver is always giving something beside the mere material thing offered. He is giving something of himself. That is why the intrinsic value of anything given is only secondary to the spirit of the giver. Never do I visit that beautiful Baker Library at Dartmouth College without thinking of the man—George F. Baker, the late New York banker—who gave it. And when he saw it finished and noted the boys in its very arms, he went home and sent a check for a million dollars to add to its endowment!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Wishful Thinking."

DETROIT—1701

Of these, two hundred fifty years: Genius and skill and high desire.

What as a dream began, appears Achieved in every temple spire.

Father to son the courage passed, Father to son renewed again. Detroit, now a city vast!

The vision and the work of men!

Two centuries and a half of these:

The spirit of the pioneer

Who for his cabin felled the trees;

The will the wilderness to clear;

The mother love that comforts spurned.

But taught her children how to pray.

And smiled upon them as they learned

To follow as she led the way.

No sign of age beneath the weight

Of those two hundred fifty years!

Time cannot make a city great

Or cope alone with doubts and fears.

Detroit's glories now, as then,

By hearts and minds of men are gained.

And ever by the sons of men

They will be cherished and maintained.

THE ELGIN—A Modern Ranch-Type Home With Ample Room

Rooms ..... Eight
Bedrooms ..... Three
Closets ..... Eight
Cubage ..... 40,200 ft.
Dimensions ..... 77 x 25 ft.

Because it is not necessary to have a cellar under the three bedrooms and bath in the right wing of the Elgin, you can save money on cellar excavation and construction costs and reduce overall expenses of building the Elgin. Of course, if you prefer, you can have a full cellar under this house.

Measuring 77 by 25 feet, the Elgin has a cubage of 36,600 feet with partial cellar excavation. The cubage is 40,200 feet with a full cellar.

Fieldstone Used
A combination of fieldstone, brick and wood is suggested for the house's exterior finish: such a varied finish perfectly suits the appearance of informality that typifies today's popular ranch house. Why not paint the exterior wooden sections white and add color to the house exterior by having asphalt shingles, in any attractive color combination, applied to the roof?

The abundance of windows in the Elgin gives additional decorative appeal to both the interior and exterior of the house; they also perform the practical function of providing light and ventilation and help to bring the outdoors right inside the house.

Offerin protection to the visitor: the recessed front entrance opens into a foyer. On the right of this foyer there is a central hallway connecting with the bedrooms and bath in the right wing of the house. The archway in the left wall of the foyer leads into the spacious living room.

There is a large coat closet at the end of the foyer so that you'll have a convenient storage spot for your family's stormy weather apparel and footwear as well as a place to hang visitors' coats, hats, etc.

Picture Window
The large picture window, containing 15 small panes and flanked by narrow casement windows, is centered in the front wall of the living room and greatly boosts this room's attractiveness rating.

Measuring 22 by 13 feet 4 inches in dimensions, the living room also boasts a massive fireplace in the right wall and a long expanse of unbroken space along the back wall. Furniture arrangements should present no problem whatsoever in the living room for there is ample space for a number of attractive and convenient furniture groupings.

Nor is it necessary to use modern furnishings exclusively for more and more folks are now successfully combining the modern and traditional in furniture and decoration and making full use of the best that various periods have to offer. A room of many doors, none of which are so placed as to detract from the room's appearance, or, in any way make furniture arrangements more difficult, the living room connects with the dining room, the den and the screened-in porch, as well as — tertained with a program in the huge tent which has been erected over the dancing floor, but the "Old Folks" had their day today.

The attractions at the carnival grounds, under the supervision of the fire company, attracted a crowd of nearly 1,000 people Friday evening. . . .

Located at the left of the living room, the screened-in porch is 13 feet by 8 feet 6 inches and can be glassed-in or left open, if you prefer. If you screen the porch in, however, you will find it a very pleasant spot in which to relax on a summer evening or at any other time during the day when the sun is shining on another side of the house. The youngsters are sure to find it loads of fun to sleep all night on such a porch during the hot summer weather.

FIFTY LEFT DEAD BY PLANE CRASH ON ROCKY PEAK

Fort Collins, Colo., July 3 (AP) — Investigators piecing together the story of Colorado's worst air tragedy believe the 50 persons aboard a United Air Lines DC6 had no warning death loomed in the cloud-shrouded Rockies.

None lived to tell of the final moments Saturday on flight 610, making its first San Francisco-Chicago run after a 10-day pilot strike.

But there was the incompleteness of the crash. Some passengers had been writing: "I am feeling better already."

And the hands of one flight officer, still clenched as though gripping controls. And the woman with her arms hugged over her face where she clasped them as the mainliner plowed full force into Crystal mountain.

Bodies Torn Apart
The bodies, torn apart like the broken plane and gathered gently yesterday, are being identified in the National Guard armory here, a makeshift morgue under military guard.

When officials of the air line and of the Civil Aeronautics administration began their continuing investigation into the unknown cause of the crash, they knew this much: The plane stopped briefly at Salt

At 1:46 a.m. (MST) veteran pilot James R. Appleby reported he was at 15,000 feet over Cheyenne, Wyo., turning south and dropping down to get in the landing pattern for Denver. Ten minutes later he said he was at 8,500 feet. Low clouds covered the mountains west of his course.

As the hours passed, a growing armada of planes from Colorado and Wyoming searched for it. Wyoming Aeronautics Director Ralph Johnson spotted the wreckage 11 hours later. It was 18 miles west of Fort Collins and 12 miles north of Estes park, gateway to Rocky Mountain National park.

How many "Independence Days" have we left?

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed..."

Immortal words from the Declaration of Independence, adopted on the first 4th of July, just 175 years ago.

THESE WORDS are the stones upon which man built history's greatest work—the United States of America. Remember them well!

"... all men are created equal..." That means you are as important in the eyes of God as any man ever brought into this world. You are made in His image and likeness. There is no "superior" man anywhere.

"... they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights..." Here is your birthright—the freedom to live, work, worship and vote as you choose. These are rights no government on earth may take from you.

"... That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men..." Here is the reason for and the purpose of government. Government is but a servant—not a master—not a giver of anything.

"... deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed..." In America, the government may assume only the powers you allow it to have. It may assume no others.

From Concord to Korea, your kinsmen have fought and died for the principles of America's Declaration of Independence: belief in God... belief in the God-given rights of man... belief that man is more important than government... belief in the vital need for morality in all man does.

But on this Independence Day, as never before, these beliefs are in deadly peril. There are people in America who would deny your God-given rights, who prefer expediency to morality, and who would make government the master—not the servant—of man. These people are the advocates of an all-powerful, all-providing socialistic government to control your destiny from cradle to grave.

The time has come to answer them with your own "Declaration of Independence"...

Declare that government is responsible TO you—rather than FOR you.

Declare that freedom is more important to you than "security" or "survival."

Declare again that the rights God gave you may not be taken away by any government on any pretext.

Our founding fathers accepted the truths of America's Declaration on faith alone. Today, our nation is proof—absolute and irrevocable—that these truths work. They are the last great hope for the protection of human civilization.

FREEDOM NEEDS YOU

On this 175th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, help give the day the spiritual, religious meaning it had to the founding fathers.

Renew your faith and allegiance to the immortal truths stated in the Declaration. Make them an active part of your thinking, your acting, your voting.

Pray for help in maintaining man's closeness to God, in preserving man's God-given rights and responsibilities against those who would make you dependent upon a socialistic, all-powerful government.

"... we need only to recall that the substance of (America's) formula is continuous, strict and closely guarded limitations upon the power of government. Neither the peril of war nor the promise of welfare must ever serve to relax any item of this formula..."

From "The Key to Peace" by Dean Clarence Manion, College of Law, Notre Dame University, published by The Heritage Foundation.

Birth Of A Great Nation

July 4, 1776

tal in the public square and melted into bullets. The Declaration was read at the head of each Brigade in the Army; it was proclaimed from pulpits and public platforms; and was welcomed everywhere with shouts and processions, with the firing of guns and the ringing of bells, with bonfires and illuminations.

Had Great Objective

After the groping so long in the dark, and suffering one indignity after another from the Crown, the people now had a goal, a prize for which they were willing to stake their all — "their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor."

Said John Adams, that devoted patriot, who had just witnessed the first public celebration of the birth of America:

"It ought to be commemorated, as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward forevermore."

The new American idea essentially was a spiritual one; it was waged against despotism. It proclaimed that each human being is, by nature, a distinct personality possessing dignity and integrity. It recognized God as the source of all personal liberty. This unique idea, as distilled and clarified in the Declaration of Independence, embodied the belief that governments are instituted among men to secure certain unalienable rights, not to destroy them.

With the passing of time succeeding celebrations of the day have been imposing but with far less meaning. To refresh our memories, and excite anew our appreciation of the great truths set forth in the immortal Declaration, let us quote its preface:

Self-Evident Truths

"When in the Course of human Events, it becomes necessary for one People to dissolve the Political Bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the Earth, the separate and equal Station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent Respect to the Opinions of Mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the Separation.

"We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness—That to secure these Rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just Powers from the Consent of the Governed, that whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these Ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its Foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established shall not be changed for light and transient Causes; and accordingly all Experience hath shewn, that Mankind are more disposed to suffer, while Evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the Forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long Train of Abuses and Usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a Design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their Right, it is their Duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future Security." (Spelling, capitalization, and punctuation conform to the original.)

175th Anniversary

How meaningful are those words on this, America's 175th birthday, when dictatorship is on the march? What a challenge we are presented with—the challenge of passing on to future generations, vital and unimpaired, the liberties and freedoms—economic, political, social, and religious—that we are privileged to enjoy here in our beloved country.

Yes, the Declaration of Independence is America's Charter of Freedom. When it was proclaimed throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof, there was not one great domain in all the world in which individuals were not either subjects or serfs. Millions of human beings lived under governments of bigotry and cruelty. Tyrants ruled on the theory that no man had a right to worship except as he was told how, when, and where to worship; and that it was a crime to think, to assemble, and to talk about the affairs of either church or state. Subjects were told they should work, how long they should receive for their work. And whatever pay they did receive was, for the most part, confiscated by their rulers.

Unselfish Thinkers

Our forefathers, those profound, unselfish thinkers, who had the courage to declare that man had a natural right to freedom of thought, freedom of speech, and freedom to choose his own government and to live his own life, were the morning stars of liberty's dawning day.

It is the purpose of our National Capital, led by the President of the United States, to set the pace for "extra-special" celebrations in every city, town, and hamlet on our country's 175th anniversary.

Washington's celebration will be held on the monument grounds. President Truman will speak, the signing of the Declaration will be re-enacted, a chorus of 175 voices from Washington churches will sing, and arrangements have been

Recapture Old Spirit

So let us fall in line and put forth a special effort to fulfill the suggestions (supra) of that ardent and patriotic supporter of the Declaration, John Adams. But let us at the same time try to recapture the spirit and philosophy of those early days when there was no indolence, and no desire for unearned security, on the part of individuals; no extravagant bounties and subsidies on the part of the government. Industry, self-discipline, and personal sacrifice made this country great. The men who gave us the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States never intended Uncle Sam to be a national overseer of the improvident. They expected us to "paddle our own canoe"; to be lifters, not leaneers. They sincerely believed that God helps those who help themselves, and they spoke and acted accordingly.

Let us, in reverence, thank those great patriots who signed their names to the immortal document we now commemorate. Let us thank the millions who have died on a hundred battlefields that the principles set forth in our Charter of Freedom might triumph. And let us now resolve to adhere to those principles, fidelity to which will insure sound government and individual freedom.

Let us say with the poet:
"The glory of our present
Is to make our future free;
We love our land for what she is,
And what she is to be."

LEGISLATURE IS IN RECESS OVER FOURTH OF JULY

Harrisburg, July 3 (AP) — The big questions of the 1951 Legislature today are: What to do about taxes—and when do we go home?

After six months of sessions the lawmakers have been unable to answer the first question to anyone's satisfaction. And until they do the second will remain speculative.

The lawmakers have recessed over the Fourth of July holiday. They return July 9 to renew efforts at clearing up the tax muddle, passing other legislation, then adjourning.

So far the Legislature has passed 185 of the 2,309 bills introduced. Gov. John S. Fine has signed 145 of these and vetoed eight. The others on his desk may be signed within the next few days.

Standing in the way of adjournment is a stack of major legislation, including Fine's proposed one-half of one per cent income tax.

That measure won House approval after a bitter struggle but was shut back to the Senate Finance committee after a GOP Senate caucus failed to provide enough votes to insure passage.

Responsible for the levy's downfall to date are 11 rebelling Republican senators who claim the governor does not need the tax to balance his $2,230,000,000 budget. Fine says the tax, estimated to raise $119,000,000, is necessary to carry out his program.

Also remaining to be decided are these red hot issues:

A 10 per cent pay boost for state employees; a suggested $46,000,000 increase in teachers salaries; and reapportionment of the state's 33 congressional districts; proposals to set up a fair employment practices commission; to increase the maximum weight of trucks allowed on the state's highways; and to increase the minimum and maximum levels of Pennsylvania's unemployment and workmen's compensation rates; start the administration's health program, which would put health work on the county level.

But once the tax situation is resolved and the governor's budget in tow, the remaining legislation probably will be handled in the windup weeks as the House and Senate members drive to a sizzling finish.

The most persistent talk in the capitol is that a special session will be called in January to handle the reapportionment problem. Otherwise, the present session might be lengthened into the fall on that issue alone.

HOW FREEDOM RINGS
America's 42 million telephones present overpowering evidence of freedom of speech in this country. Here is an immense highway of communication far greater than the combined telephone systems of the rest of the world. Here, too, is stirring evidence of what private enterprise, dedicated to public service can do.
Surely no other system should challenge our method unless it is prepared to do better. History has shown they can't, even at the cost of sacrificing human liberty. Surely, then, freedom, free enterprise and achievement go hand in hand.

church, Chambersburg, and the Rt. Rev. John Thomas Heistand, bishop of Harrisburg, will give his blessing to the congregation.

Originally known as Christ church, Huntingdon township, the parish was founded by English missionaries sent out by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in 1753, although a congregation existed as early as 1748. This old missionary society is celebrating its 250th anniversary this summer as a part of the Festival of Great Britain. The original church was of log construction and stood about two miles from the brick chapel in York Springs. The latter building was built in the 1830's. This parish, together with five others which are still active, are the nucleus from which has grown the present Episcopal Diocese of Harrisburg which includes 82 parishes and missions.

INSPIRATION FOR INDEPENDENCE DAY

As we celebrate our Independence, may we remember this: youngsters develop their ideas, principles and devotion to American tradition largely through the examples set by older folks.

Let us all so live that every act of ours will be an inspiration to the boys and girls upon whom the future of America depends.
